

Fold N' Cut

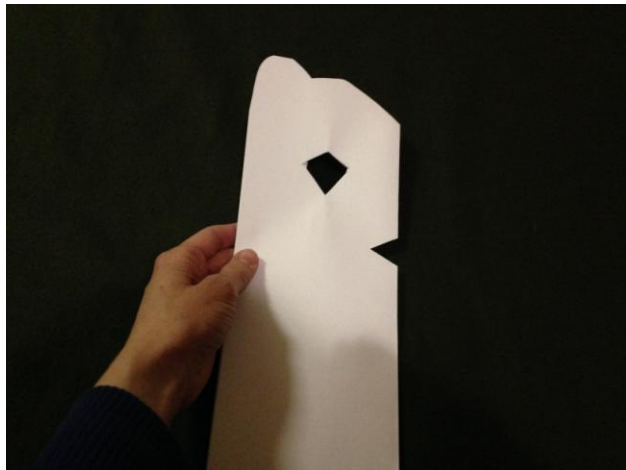

There was a boy who sat in his house all day. (hold paper in half the long way)

Then one day, without telling his mother, he snuck out of the house and up and over two hills. (cut wide hill and then more rounded hill)

He turned the bend (fold paper in half again the long way) and found a spring (triangle cut on upper right part) to drink.

He even found a rock (triangle cut on right side) to reflect on his adventure.

Then a snake rustled (cut zig-zag lines) in the grass and the boy raced away (straight diagonal line from mid-bottom and to the left).

He parted through the bushes and saw something worse than a snake. (open up) A jaguar. The boy wished for home. Now, do you think he made it home? Your turn to tell.
