Seven dinner guests never returned from their visit to Highcliff Estate. Lady Highcliff, whose mind is said to be unraveling faster than a dropped spool of thread, has also disappeared. Forensic experts and priests alike would be unable to determine what occurred there, for something entirely other transpired. Would you be able to see the unseeable, touch the untouchable, and understand the incomprehensible in time to discover their fate? And could you do it before something happens to your own mind? Come and find out through professional storyteller and actor Bradley Mackay.
